

CNSI CEO B. Chatterjee with Eight Probable Outcomes In 2012

12/06/2011 – 2012 is fast approaching, and with it comes big changes in the Federal IT industry. WashingtonExec is giving local executives the opportunity to share their thoughts on where they see the government contracting industry headed. Leaders of the industry were asked a series of predictions questions focused on challenging issues such as cloud computing, healthcare IT, defense and so forth. B.

12/06/2011 – 2012 is fast approaching, and with it comes big changes in the Federal IT industry. WashingtonExec is giving local executives the opportunity to share their thoughts on where they see the government contracting industry headed. Leaders of the industry were asked a series of predictions questions focused on challenging issues such as cloud computing, healthcare IT, defense and so forth. B. Chatterjee, co-founder and CEO of CNSI gave WashingtonExec what he believes will be the most probable outcomes regarding healthcare, defense spending, M&A deals and mobility in the coming year. Read the full story on Washington Exec.