Gaithersburg, MD, June 6, 2012 – CNSI, today announced it has been recognized by UBM Channel as a part of CRN's 2012 Solution Provider 500 list, which ranks the top technology integrators in North America. Formerly known as the "VAR 500", the Solution Provider 500 ranks the highest producing solution provider organizations in the IT channel from hardware sales, software sales, and managed IT services. CNSI moved up from their 2011 ranking, being listed at 109 in the 2012 Solution Provider 500 list. The Solution Provider 500 ranking is based on revenue size, and considers each company's forward-thinking approach to the channel. In particular, the Solution Provider 500 selection panel sought to recognize companies that are building out practices around the data center and virtualization while offering software integration and application development skills. Revenue size is determined by the amount of annual products and services sold over the course of 2011.

Companies with no public documentation were required to submit a notarized affidavit attesting to their 2010 and 2011 revenues."We are excited to be listed on the 2012 SP 500 list and honored to be recognized as one of the nation's top solution providers, " states CNSI President, Adnan Ahmed. "We are proud of delivering high quality, innovative solutions in healthcare, government IT, defense, and enterprise mobility that help our clients accomplish their missions and improve business performance." CNSI has been listed on the SP 500 (formerly the VAR500) for the past five years in a row. "The organizations listed in this year's Solution Provider 500 list are today's true integration innovators who generate high revenues by putting their customers' needs first," said Kelley Damore, Vice President and Editorial Director at UBM Channel. "Their primary role is to engineer ways to leverage technology solutions that help customers exceed their sales goals, drive client satisfaction, expand internationally or accelerate new product development. In essence, they are today's IT integration leaders for middle market and enterprise customers. We congratulate CNSI for making this year's list and look forward to covering their continued success."
